

CPA Awards: Bursary and Scholarships

The Awards and Recognition Committee (ARC) will adhere to the following policies for a transparent process for the CPA Awards: Bursary and Scholarships:

1. CPA NWT/NU makes two categories of Awards. The bursaries will generally support the recipient based on financial need, while the scholarships will focus on academic achievement.
2. All applicants must be:
 - a. a resident of NWT or NU for more than six months based on the application deadline date; and
 - b. working or qualified to work in NWT or NU.
3. The ARC has the authority to change the criteria, application, and application process for Awards.
4. The applicant will provide all the required information on the approved forms.
5. Candidates can self-nominate.
6. ARC may independently collect information from CPA Canada, employer, social media or other areas to assess the information submitted supporting the candidate's application.
7. The ARC will select successful candidates for the bursary and scholarship awards. The decision of ARC is not subject to appeal.
8. The Awards will only be awarded if an eligible candidate meets or exceeds the required criteria.
9. The application must be kept confidential by the candidate, the ARC and others involved in the process.
10. All applicants applying for Awards will be informed of ARC's decision.
11. The Award winner can be advertised and used to promote the CPA designation by ARC.

Establishing Bursaries or Scholarships

Based on the recommendations of ARC, the CPA NWT/NU Board may establish a bursary or scholarship to recognize special events or CPAs who have made a distinguished contribution to the accounting body. The Award should enhance the professional stature of the CPA organization as a caring and compassionate professional body. Some of the factors in establishing a bursary or scholarship that the Board may take into consideration are:

- a. A minimum of $1,000 is paid annually for a term of five years
- b. CPA Alberta will provide administration for the bursary and scholarship funds and issue any tax receipts to the funds' contributor
- c. The funding of the bursary can come from a combination of the following:
 - Fully paid by CPA NWT/NU within the existing financial means of the organization.
 - Sponsored Bursary or Scholarship fully funded by the sponsor will only be disbursed under the eligibility criteria specified by the sponsor.
 - Some combination of fully paid and sponsored bursary and scholarship
